Dear Dr. Davis,

I want to thank you for coming to FBC Tampa and leading the two worldview seminars as part of our discipleship efforts. We are at an exciting juncture as a church where God is connecting the hearts of the people in our church to our city and your seminars greatly helped in our effort to equip each member to be a “local missionary.”

As you know from your experience as an international missionary and pastor, practical training that is theologically sound is vital in the process of equipping evangelistic missionaries. Your worldview seminars not only deepened the attendees’ understanding of their personal relationship with Christ, but also provided a critical foundation for meaningful relationship building and evangelism necessary for fruitful missional living. We have been working hard at helping our members construct gospel bridges, but you have helped us greatly in communicating the need to also build worldview bridges in so many different situations.

I look forward to extending a future invitation for you to return to help our members learn practical strategies for developing worldview bridges.

Thanks again for partnering with us in our effort to transform our city of Tampa, our state of Florida, our nation, and our world for the glory of Jesus Christ.

To God be all the Glory,

Brian Dembowczyk
Associate Pastor of Discipleship
